Shopping for Righteousness

Bible Thought: "Seek first His kingdom and His righteousness..." (Matthew 6:33, NIV).

I admit it...I really do not like shopping. Well, maybe the better way to say it is "I don't like walking around the Mall and window shopping all day or night." When I need to buy something, I go where the item will most likely be, hope it is at a reasonable price, and get it. Shopping is something I endure more than I enjoy.

As we look around for meaning and significance in life, our shopping experiences will be different. Some won't even shop for righteousness with God. Others spend their time window shopping, not really making any decisions about God, but enjoying the outing. And others are not out browsing around for righteousness with God, but when they want it, they want it right now.

Just as we need clothes to wear and want food and drink, God knows that at some point we will want righteousness with Him. We struggle with what "store" to go to, but we will know that we need to get right with Him.

The place to get righteousness is in God's kingdom. Are we actively shopping for God's kingdom and righteousness or has pursuit of other things gotten in the way.
